Customer Reviews

I turned to Moon Puerto Rico after a really great experience reading and using the Moon Panama book. But as soon as I was on the ground in Puerto Rico I realized how disappointing this book is in the end! Time and again my travel companion and I wondered whether the author had ever actually been to PR, and in fact, we are quite certain that if she did she never left San Juan. The information was not complete, details were incorrect, and ideas for more adventurous and unique activities that one expects from Moon books were missing/ disappointing. I recommend finding a different book for your travels, especially if you want to get out of San Juan.

This book turned out to be quite an asset in Puerto Rico. It gave great recommendations for restaurants and sites. It is especially helpful if you do not stay in San Juan. It covers the whole island. I only gave 4 stars because some of the info was outdated and a few things were understated in our area. By the time we realized this, it was too late to take advantage of them.

We went to Puerto Rico for our honeymoon, and the Moon guide is superb. We chose to spend almost all our time in the jungle, beaches, and mountains, with only 1 day in San Juan. This book told us of things known mostly to locals: a wonderful natural waterslide near Luquillo, that we should eat at the Luquillo Kiosks, how to find the best bioluminescent bay experience, and a roadside stand that sells scrumptious sangria. (Don't miss the jungle zipline, too.) This book took us many places where we found ourselves surrounded by native Puerto Ricans enjoying their beautiful island. If you're planning your own way and won't be spending the entire time on a resort, this book is a great guide.

We found this guidebook to be very helpful and have very up-to-date information for our recent trip. Some recommendations were a little on the pricey side so we used this along with research we did online.

Just what I needed/expected.

I like most Moon handbooks. This one is just a little bit dated. Much more current info is available online at various sites.

The Moon series is the best in travel as far as I am concerned. Great information, pictures and tips for travelers.

thanks perfect!
