Customer Reviews

My Thoughts: When Tyndale asked me to review this product, I agreed hesitantly. I have not colored since elementary school and was baffled at the recent adult coloring book craze. When it came I was impressed with the beautiful feel of the book. I decided I would color just one page so I could give a more accurate review. After digging through the back of the closet I found our colored pencils and sat down to color. Turns out I like to color. Who knew? Instead of writing the review, I've spent my time coloring a total of 16 pages. I enjoy coloring while listening to an audible book or a podcast. I seem to hear better when my hands are busy. What I didn't like: It's a minor thing, but some pages have one picture covering both the right and left page so when you are coloring you can't color well in the crease and the picture doesn't quite line up. Also, Some pages have parts of the picture colored in. I can see where some people might like this, but I would prefer to choose my own color palettes. What I liked: I found it is a good way to change up my quiet time with God. The pages have prayers on them and spaces for journaling. It is peaceful to sit and color and praise God for His character. Overall, I was impressed with the product and plan to pick up a few for Christmas gifts. Tyndale has a whole line of Living Expressions Collection. You can check out their Inspire Creativity board on Pinterest for downloadable samplers and shareable coloring pages. I would recommend this to: Anyone who wants to relax, learn to be still and quiet or deepen their relationship with God. This would also make a nice gift for all ages.

Gratitude: a prayer and Praise Coloring Journal book Not only I but all 4 of my girls were thrilled when this book came in the mail! I've now not only spent some down time coloring but also some quality time with my girls! There are places to write and add thoughts, I'll probably do that as I go along. Right now we are just having fun coloring and spending time together! Despite the hard cover this book lays remarkably flat! It actually seems to be a soft cover with a hard cover glued on to the top and bottom but not the sides! It makes it lay very flat and works wonderfully for moving your hand all across both pages without hinderances! I know it is a little thing but that is important for me! Maybe because I'm not a die hard coloring fan...well, or I wasn't! Some pages are just to be colored and some have places to write on. There is a little bit of coloring done on a few of the pages if you want help choosing colors! Others are just black and white. This book seems perfect for the journaling type interested in trying coloring or the coloring type who's interested in journaling! The book is ready for whatever mood you are in, no pressure to do it page by page! My 12 year old loves it and wants one of her own, the verses, prayers and titles are smattered through the book just perfectly! It's a gem of a book to own! Or to gift! And for the technical part: This book was provided for me to review by Tyndale Blog network & Tyndale House Publishers. Thanks guys!

Am giving this as a gift. Pretty book, nice quality but not much coloring area. But maybe that's better since it's really for writing entries. Am revising review. My friend loved it, and upon further inspection, it's nicer than I thought. There's more depth to each page for different ideas, your own drawings etc. Very nice.

The journal is pretty. I'm not crazy about it though because the pens I use can bleed through the pages - and the paper is pretty thick. It also doesn't leave a lot of room for writing. I imagine this journal would be used up within a month, if used every day.

hands down the best money i have spent in ages

Beautiful. Will make the perfect gift for a friend in mourning. Thanks!

Great coloring book! Using this with our youth group for lent.

It is amazing
