Each chapter describes in detail one place and mentions there other places. The one place description includes lots of historical informations and practical details to help you get the most of your visit so you will get both satisfaction and great memories.Talking about the Hiroshima Peace Memorial Park...in the park is as statue with folded crane close to it...Sadako Sasaki believed that she would be cured if she folded 1000 paper cranes ...Talking about the Sensoji Temple...the Nishinomiya Inari Shrine built in 1927 with a torii. There is a bronze plaque there, and the names of people that contributed to the construction of the torii are boldly written on it...Being a foreigner living and travelling in Japan for more than 10 years I also included useful tips to access easliy the places and my experience regarding the selected travel spots.Because I know that communication with japanese people can be sometimes (often?) challenging, I did include a survival vocabulary list with more than 190 words and phrases you can use to communicate in various situations such as :- immigration process- checking at your hotel- Using metro and train- shopping for souvenirs and many more situations!My 10 years experience of living and traveling in Japan will help you get the most of your trip in Japan!This book is really different from others in the way that each described place includes a lot of details you can't get in a traditional traveling book, and the vocabulary chapter will definitely help you dealing with basic situations so you can focus on enjoying your time!Click now to get your own copy!Tags: japanese lover,japan travel guide,tokyo travel guide,kyoto travel guide,japanese travel phrase book, japan history and culture
